

Requirements for the application of foreign students to the PhD-program

The following documents need to be supplied in order to assess final degrees completed abroad:

- a translated and certified copy of your final degree (Master, Magister, Diploma etc.),
- your curriculum vitae, including an outline of your course of studies at high school and university,
- a compilation (transcript) of lectures, courses and seminars,
- a detailed list of experimental work done in advanced lab courses,
- a copy of your master thesis and, if written in a language other than German or English, a short summary of your thesis in English,
- a statement by the prospective supervisor at Mainz on your scientific qualifications and an evaluation of your thesis to determine if it is comparable to a good German diploma or master thesis, and finally
- Proof of adequate knowledge of the German or English language, enrollment regulations § 7
- Validation/Assessment of previous foreign education for studying at JGU, issued by International Office – Incoming
- If you are looking for a doctorate at the Johannes Gutenberg University of Mainz, please apply online for the acceptance as a PhD student.